34th Forest Fire Of Season For Area Is Report

Woodchopper and Iceland Both Scenes of Fires Caused by Man

The thirty-fourth forest fire in the Truckee district of the Tahoe National Forest occurred Saturday at Woodchopper Springs, eight miles north of here, and three-quarters of an acre of heavy timber was destroyed, according to William Curran, fire control officer.

The fire was believed started from a smoker and luckily there was no wind and the fire was under control in a short time, although nearly 200 spot fires in the area kept the fire fighters active during the afternoon.

Another fire last Wednesday at Iceland swept over an acre and a half between the S. P. tracks and Highway 40. Only grass and brush burned and the Truckee suppression crew soon had it controlled. Curran said the fire is believed to have started from a spark from a rail grinder.

With the forests tinder dry, and the fire hazard greater than it has been for several years, local forest service officials are constantly on the alert and any reported violation which might result in a fire is being checked carefully and everyone has been warned that severe penalties may be the result of convictions.

Last year there were 31 fires in the district and the 34 to date, with no immediate chance of the hazard lessening, is causing some concern.

Keys Must Pay Giffords $12,400 Judge Decrees

Superior Judge James Snell has ruled that John A. Keys and his wife must pay I. O. Gifford and his wife $12,400 and court costs as a result of a property swap early in 1949.

The Keys brought suit many months ago, alleging they gave up property at Lovelock, Nev., and also assumed a debt in exchange for the Truckee Resort, near Truckee. They alleged the resort's earning power had been misrepresented to them.

The decision, in effect, directs Dr. and Mrs. Keys to make all payments owing to the Giffords under their contract.

Truckee Items Of 75 Years Ago Are Reported By Bee

That Truckee and its newspaper were pretty much on the map 75 years ago is proven in the Sacramento Bee's column "75 Years Ago," which during the past week has reported two interesting items from the Truckee Republican.

The first reads as follows:

"A 300 word article, reprinted from the Truckee Republican, described a race between a deer and a freight locomotive in a long railroad snowshed near Truckee. Trapped inside the shed, the deer had no choice but to run ahead of the engine. The unsympathetic train crew loosened the brakes and applied full steam, but the deer darted through a damaged wall of the shed into the open just as it was about to be hit. The race covered more than half a mile."

The second read:

"Nat Webb, a celebrated snow plow operator for the Central Pacific Railroad, called at the police station and presented Officer Fred Chamberlin with a pair of leg irons. Webb said he found them hidden in a pine stump near Truckee, Nevada County. It was surmised they were discarded by a recent escapee from the Nevada State Prison."

WILSON AGAIN TOPS JUSTICES IN FINE PAY-INS

County Treasurer Elma Hecker reported that Justice of the Peace F. W. Wilson of Truckee paid in $2,646 in fines and fees for August.

This compares with $473.75 paid in by Justice C. A. Morehouse of Grass Valley and $333.75 by Justice George W. Gildersleeve of Nevada City — a total of $807.50 for the other two justice courts of the county.

Total receipts for the month were $111,818.29 while warrants to the amount of $222,097.69 were paid out, Miss Hecker reports.

Currently the annual drive for funds for the Boy Scouts of America is going forward here. Much of the amount raised will go toward support of the local troop, the balance being used for district and national organization purposes. We cannot think of a better cause than support of the Boy Scouts and the committees should have little difficulty in securing local quotas. Contribution to this movement is an investment in the future of our nation.

Watching the work of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department during the fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Titus Sunday, we could not help wondering at the dispatch and efficiency of this small group of men. Without the training and experience of an organized city department, the local crew may have overlooked some of the finer techniques of the business, but with speed and effectiveness went about the work of extinguishing the blaze, minimizing the loss and reassuring neighbors that Truckee has a fire department of considerable value to the town. Within five minutes after the alarm, the men and equipment were on the job and we disagree completely with the idle by-stander who was heard to remark that: "If we depended upon the fire department, the whole town would burn."

With almost hourly reports of new and disastrous forest fires throughout the state, we should cross our fingers as we scan the horizon and see the green trees and blue sky of our vicinity. Never have the forests been dryer or more vulnerable. Only continued caution by every individual who enters the woods can prevent a conflagration. By all means be careful. Don't throw lighted matches or burning tobacco butts from cars. Observe every rule of safety in the woods and caution others to do likewise.

Opening Of High School Is Again Delayed A Week

Builder Unable to Complete Work, Date Moved to Sept. 24th

Another week's delay in the opening of the Tahoe-Truckee Unified High School was announced yesterday by Everett O'Rourke, district superintendent, who said that classes would be started on Monday, September 24. Other schools in the district opened on September 4.

Registrations will be held today and Friday, as previously announced, but will be at the old high school building instead of the new and all new students and others wishing to change their programs are asked to register.

"Due to the failure of builders to meet earlier promises, the Tahoe-Truckee high school will open on September 24th instead of September 17th, as previously announced," O'Rourke said.

He expressed the regrets of the board and other school officials who, he said, are not responsible for the delay and explained that because of previous commitments by the contractor, the program for starting the fall semester in the new building was scheduled and cannot be conveniently changed.

Titus estimated the loss at less than $1,000 and voiced his appreciation for the work of the volunteers and neighbors who responded to aid. No one was at home at the time, Mrs. Titus being in St. Mary's hospital and her husband visiting in town.

Two Killed When Tanker, Pickup Crash At Cisco

Several Others Seriously Injured in Accidents On U. S. 40

Officers of the California Highway Patrol today were continuing their investigation into the collision a mile east of Cisco on Highway 40 which killed two prominent Sparks, Nev., residents at 2:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Angelo Santino Oppio, 78, and his wife, Catherina, 65, were killed almost instantly when the new model pickup they were driving east collided headon with an F. N. Rumbley Co. oil tanker on a slight curve. The truck driver, William A. Weaver, 32, West Sacramento, suffered an injury to one arm which was treated by Dr. L. D. Nelson, after which he returned home.

First indications, according to William Gautsche, state patrolman, led to the belief that the pickup was on the wrong side of the center of the highway but later investigation showed this may not have been the case.

Careened 100 Feet

With the pickup loaded with fruits and vegetables wedged under the trailer of the truck, the two vehicles careened down the highway a distance of 100 feet before plowing into the rocks below the highway. Mrs. Oppio was thrown under the trailer and Oppio was pinned behind the wheel of his truck.

The Truckee ambulances, operated by N. F. Dolley and F. W. Wilson, rushed to the scene and took the bodies of the victims to Cisco where equipment from the coroner's office at Colfax met them. Weaver was brought to Truckee for treatment.

Patrolman at Scene

Patrolman Henry Uhde was within a few yards of the scene of the mishap when the collision occurred and was the first person to reach the spot. He said the crash sounded like an explosion and he at first thought a blast was responsible.

The crash victims were widely known in the Reno-Sparks area, where they operated extensive holdings and had a wide circle of friends. Both were natives of Italy but had been residents of the Sparks district for half a century. They leave eight children, Charles, Albert, Leslie, Santino Jr., and Eugene Oppio of Sparks, Mrs. Louise Senech of Sacramento and Mrs. Linda Benedetti and Gloria Oppio of Reno.

SUMMIT SCENE

by FRAN COUILLARD

One of our local maids (nine years old) was taken out to dine at a swank place on Lake Tahoe this past week. Excusing herself nicely, she left the goodly gathering at her table to temporarily adjourn to the powder room. The gal who jingles coins in a dish had taken off, evidently, and our little heroine had to be hung out to air during the rest of the serving for she had liberally doused herself from each and every bottle of cologne and was too, too extremely high powered. It was explained to her that cologne, in mild doses, is a feminie perogative, but there are limits.

The lives of a mother and seven of her children have just been placed in my hands so perhaps you can help me find a place of abode for the good sized family before they become charges of an institution. Mama is a good looking airedale and one of the pups has a slight resemblance to Dr. Howard Naffziger's handsome boxer, Bourbon. Mama took a stroll into the Cedars property early this year and there became a permanent resident. We tried valiantly to find an owner that would be mourning the loss of a handsome airedale (airedales being our favorite canines) but no one showed up to claim her. So now, with family, she becomes a public problem. The pups are but two weeks old but suckle a finger delightfully so they could be bottle raised at this point. Naturally, ma would be delighted to go with the kids, but we couldn't hope for a philantropist that would take over the whole charge. Jess and Roy Thompson are housing the brood at this point and find themselves quite tied down. A telephone call to either of them at Soda Springs 2372 might bring a button chewing, slipper chewing little fairy into your home, or maybe you'd be interested in ma.

Which reminds us that Eleanor Johansen's "Sonny" has just returned home with a pretty badly bruised foot, same showing signs of having been trapped. Busy Dr. Ralph Reynolds took time out from a weekend vacation to examine and bandage said injured tootsie.

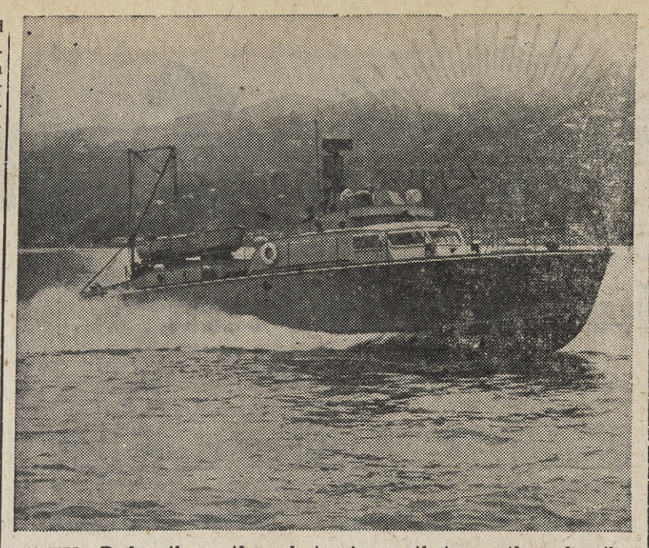

Many of the locals went Sacramentoward to visit State Fair. This group included all the youngsters who took in the Fair via school bus; the Bill Parrotts, the Jim Sherritts, the Brant Chaplins (and various members of the Soda Springs Hotel staff), the Stanley Waltons, the Jerry Jansens, the Jack Cramptons, the Ernie Johnsons, these and many more cut down the mid season mountain parties to an enth.

Hammers fly madly, e'en though 'tis warm at this writing, so that roofs and windows can be installed before the first white whirls take over. Miseners' new cabin at Soda Springs has sprung from the granite ike a phoenix. Both Wanda and Virg hammer, paint, oil, sweat and strain from daylight to sunset and quit only when exhaustion overtakes them. The Kimmerling and Mori fuutre ski hotel starts sprawling and takes on a commercial air. Doc Buek stands in the doorway of his mountain abode and surveys his summer's handiwork $a nAdjymeoHgkeCsrWeletO N Don't let the small appearance of this delightful cabin fool you. What you see on the surface is merely part of it, for it climbs on down to the river below on the soihth bank of the Yuba, not only giving a delightful view through its large windows but making a plenty spacious cabin. The Paul Merricks are but one couple who built on the Soda Springs subdivision, for three other houses are emerging through the pine curtain that stands between those new structures and the road that is known as "Forty". Oscar Beach, next door, awakens us each morning and puts us to sleep at night as he installs an apartment in the basement of his Soda Spring cabin Can't tell you how many new homes are being built in the Ice Lakes area while out in the exclusive Cedars district, Dr. Naffziger and several others add to their holdings. Not to be left out in the Cedars deal are the Guy and George Foulks family of Elk Grove and Sacramento who have been laboring, of all things, on an artificial lake that will cover a few acres of ground. "Open next 4th of July," say the Foulks.

A huge edifice peers at us from the foliage and trees at Kingvale Park. "We said, "Looks like it was being built for a hundred!" And so it is! The Tamarack Ski Club of Sacramento assessed themselves for a goodly sum and will be ready to take over this coming ski season. In the evenings, as they park around their four-way fireplace they can relax from their strenuous summer's bout. The club quarters are a definite asset to the Kingvale Tract. Other homes in the Kingvale area have reared themselves this summer but our work has kept us chained to our desk so that we haven't found out, as yet, the names of these new neighbors three miles west. Work at the Soda Springs Hotel goes on to further improve this lovely spot.

Jeannie and Elmo Moriano take a flying trip to the big city. Edy Aro, home for the Reno veterans' hospital for another spell, takes his mother and wife, Betty, to Canada for a month's vacation. Bobby Chaplin packs his suitcases with new uniforms as he takes off for the San Rafael Military Academy. Twenty-two members of the Grass Valley-Nevada City bowling league enjoyed a steak banquet at Donner Summit Lodge this past week, with Doc Smith master of ceremonies.

With this issue, we will have to say "au revoir" for a few weeks as we take a much needed vacation. A card to the University of California Hospital in San Francisco will reach us on our "vacation." In the meantime, look for a new by-line under the Summit Scene, for well qualified Berniece Batterton, former Republican editorialist for the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat, will pinch hit for Fran Couillard of the Sierra Sun Republican. Berniece, sitting behind the desk of Donner Summit Lodge's office, can be reached by phoning Soda Springs 2301 if you'd like to get a bit of news in Summit Scene. We'll be seeing you when we get back!

HUNTER—Radar, the restless electronic eye that sees through miles of fog and darkness, is driving illegal fishing from the coastal waters of California. Such is the conclusion of State officers who have been using radar the past three years to hunt down commercial fishermen operating within the three-mile limit when visibility is poor. Above, the Bonito, State Division of Fish and Game craft equipped with General Electric radar, patrols the waters of San Francisco Bay opposite picturesque Sausalito.

LAKE COAST GUARD FUTURE ASSURED AT WEEKEND MEET

The future of Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 61, at Lake Tahoe was assured last weekend when top officers of the Coast Guard and auxiliary conferred at Stateline, Lake Tahoe.

Among the 200 attending were Capt. H. C. Perkins, chief of staff, USCG, 1pth district; Lt. Cmdr. J. F. Hettich, director of auxiliary; Com. R. R. Lorocca, San Jose; Com. Fred Webber, Flotilla 61, Lake Tahoe, and Lt. Harvey Gross, his assistant, as well as other members of the flotilla.

Reckless speedboating on Lake Tahoe has been practically eliminated since the tragic Imogene Wittsche accident, Coast Guard officials were told by member of Tahoe's flotilla.

The Lake Tahoe Flotilla viewed the results of a tight clampdown on speedboat operations and said that hazards had practically been eliminated on lake waters.

Coast Guard patrol on Tahoe was ordered after Miss Wittsche, a teen-ager from Roseville, lost both feet when she was run down by a speedboat. Operator of the craft, Phil Davis of Oakland, was fined and sentenced to prison upon conviction of negligent operation. In addition, he settled civil damage action with a large sum out of court.

Danish Volunteers Build New School for Greece

The Greek village of Agnandero had no school. As in many other places its schoolhouse was destroyed during the war. Today, thanks to the contributions of Danish school children and of a team of Danish workers, a new schoolhouse is beginning to rise in the war ravaged Greek town.

The initiative was taken by the Danish Society for Reconstruction in War-Ravaged Countries and the Danish National Commission for Unesco. Members of the Danish voluntary team cut stone and mix batches of mortar for the brand-new school which is expected to open some time this summer.

Fish and Game Shifts Beaver Colonies

SACRAMENTO— The state's summer program of trapping and transplanting live beavers saw a total of 84 animals removed from agricultural damage areas during the month of July, the division of fish and game reports.

From Plumas County, 31 Idaho beavers were live-trapped and transplanted in higher elevations where their dams will aid fish, wildlife and livestock. Eighteen golden beavers were taken from Merced County olwlands and released in the central Sierra.

Thirty-five beavers were trapped in northeastern California for transfer to selected streams in Inyo and Mono Counties.

Wyoming had a newspaper in 1869 before it became a territory.

Arrest, Convictions Ratio High for Wardens

SAN FRANCISCO— Only two of the 516 persons arrested in July for violations of the fish and game conservation laws were found not guilty by California judges, it is revealed by the division of fish and game. Fines totalling $18,188 during the month and jail sentences aggregated 756 days.

METHODIST CLERICS HOLD SESSIONS AT LAKE FOREST

LAKE FOREST— Methodist ministers of the Sacramento-Nevada district met at the Methodist conference grounds here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday this week under the chairmanship of Dr. Dillon W. Throckmorton, district superintendent.

Plans for the coming year were discussed. The district embraces 45 churches through northern California and as far east as Winnemucca, Nevada.

Dr. George Colliver of College of the Pacific gave the devotional address on Sunday and Rev. Arthur V. Thurman of the First Methodist Church, Reno, led the group on Monday evening.

Rev. A. A. Carmitchel of Truckee and Kings Beach attended the sessions.

Tahoe Valley Marine On Maneuvers

TAHOE VALLEY— Marine Cpl. Edgar S. Roberts Jr. of Tahoe Valley was recently serving at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base at Little Creek, Va., in connection with "Operation CAMID," a maneuver designed to familiarize West Point cadets and Annapolis midshipmen with amphibious warfare techniques.

Roberts, a member of Weapons Company, 3rd Battalion, 6th Marines, from the famous 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N. C., participated in four amphibious operations during his stay at Little Creek.

CRYSTAL BAYERS ASK SEEKING CREATION OF OWN TOWNSHIP

CRYSTAL BAY— Crystal Bay property owners at Lake Tahoe, residing in Washoe County, Nev., between the state line and the Ormsby County line, filed a petition with their county commissioners last Friday for creation of a new township.

With only two exceptions, all the property owners in the area represented by an assessed valuation of $1,522,055 signed the petition, which was prepared and circulated by Lester D. Summerfield. He owns property and a summer home near Incline.

The county commissioners have authority to create a township and to appoint a justice of peace and a constable and to erect a suitable building for a jail and court.

The petition cites the fact that the proposed township has a larger assessed valuation than four of the six existing townships in Washoe County. Only Reno and Sparks are assessed higher, while Verdi, Nye, Wadsworth and Gerlach have less.

The natural barrier which separate it from the rest of the county are cited, along with the fact that for a major portion of the year the population of the proposed township is exceeded in the county only by Reno and possibly Sparks.

Winter isolation makes it imperative, residents say, to have more adequate law enforcement machinery closer at hand. At present, cases from this district must be taken to the Reno justice court.

A township was created by Douglas County, Nev., at the south end of Lake Tahoe several years ago and has a constable and justice of the peace. On the California side, there are two townships in Placer County, at Tahoe City and Kings Beach, and one in El Dorado County, around Bijou and Tahoe Valley.

SANITATION DISTRICT IN PROSPECT FOR SOUTH LAKE REGION

STATELINE— Possibility that a sanitation district may be created in Nevada at the southern end of Lake Tahoe was mentioned by Al Young, member of a committee which is creating such a district in a nearby section in California.

The statement was made after residents of the area south of the lake in California voted to form such a district in ElDorado County. Young, one of the committeemen, described plans on the Nevada side as "well advanced."

The vote in the California section approved the establishment of a sanitation district between Bijou and Stateline. If such a district were established in Nevada, it would probably embrace western Douglas County.

Calaveras County is named for "El Rio de las Calaveras", the "River of Skulls."

"Honestly, now—aren't gasoline prices too high?"

Everyone who can remember what things used to cost only ten or twenty years ago may well think of those times as "the good old days." Recalling them, and the extreme bargains offered during the depression, people have asked Standard such questions as "Honestly, now—aren't gasoline prices too high?"

In answer to a question like that, Standard asks you to consider the broad situation. All prices should be kept as low as possible. But in judging what's "too high," let's see what's happened:

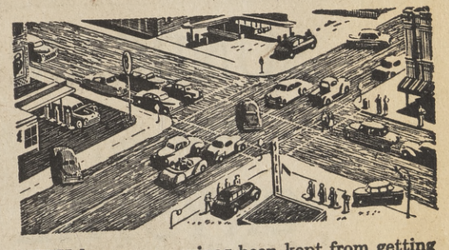

Price comparisons—1926 and 1951

Let's look back on those "good old days"—to 1926, a fairly normal year. Since then, most prices have varied greatly. By 1951, farm products cost over twice as much as in 1926, groceries and clothing about two-thirds more. But in 1951, gasoline costs almost as little as it did in 1926—actually up less than 4%, except for taxes, now 6¢ to 8¢ a gallon in the West. Most people's income has gone up enough in those years so that gasoline takes a far smaller share of their budget. So gasoline today—far from being "too high"—is an exceptionally good buy. See how and why this has come about—

HOW have gas prices been kept from getting "too high"? Partly through improvement in refining methods, developed by big companies' research. We've learned to get more gas out of every barrel of crude. (And it's better gas; 2 gallons now do work that took 3 only 25 years ago.)

WHY have gas prices been kept from getting "too high"? Because there's intense competition. To stay in business, all oil companies are always looking for ways to cut costs of producing, transporting, refining, and marketing. We keep finding them, passing benefits on to you.

I'd Like to Know . . . Many people write to Standard asking pertinent questions about the Company. We answer all letters individually, but some points seem of general interest. We take this way of discussing them for everyone. If you have a question, we urge you to write in care of: "I'd Like to Know," 225 Bush Street, San Francisco 20, California.

TAHOE CITY— The meeting held at the home of Bishop and Mrs. Noel Porter on Friday evening was attended by 15 persons, all interested in holding church services throughout the winter at Tahoe City. The enthusiasm and interest shown by them assured twice a month services to be held during the winter in Tahoe Community Hall in Tahoe City, the first meeting in early October, to be held in the afternoon at which tme Rev. Max L. Christensen, rector of Trinity Church in Nevada City, will consult with local residents and arrange the services to accommodate them.

Services will be non-sectarian and the public is invited to attend

Bishop and Mrs. Porter, who have enjoyed the summer at the lake, left September 4 for Sacramento. Last services at the Outdoor hapel, which will henceforth be known as the Outdoor Cathedral, were held Sunday with a large congregation present.

The sermons used throughout the summer by the bishop are to be printed in book form and will be available through the Sacramento office of the Episcopal diocese.

ERNIE CRAWFORD BAGS BUCK WITH BOW AND ARROW

TAHOE CITY— Deer season for archers opened in this area on September 3 and will close on September 12.

On Friday, September 7, Ernie Crawford, Sandy Beach mechanic, closed up shop around 5 p.m. and, accompanied by his son, Jimmie, 13; Bob Critchley Sr., also of Sandy Beach, and Joe De Laury of Incline Beach, took off for the vicinity of Klondike Meadows, below Martis Peak, where deer are known to abound. They arrived at 5:45 and between 6 and 6:15, Crawford got his buck, a forked horn weighing around 150 pounds, still in velvet. He shot the animal as it stood in the brush looking at him, the arrow striking it in the neck, dropping it in its tracks, at 70 yards. He used a 28 inch arrow and 55 pound bow.

This would appear to be quite the ordinary thing to do for most arches, only it was the very first buck Crawford ever shot at. He has never practiced, although he took up archery for fun two years ago. He is an amateur who declares he would prefer to get his bucks from now on with bow and arrow rather than a rifle . . . that it's far more fun.

Asked how the season's crop of bucks rated, Crawford declared he and his party spotted 35 legal bocks, most of them forked horns, still in the velvet. Rifle season on bocks opens here September 22 and he believes hunting will be good in this area, providing weather remains good. He is the only man23 mains good.

First School

When California's first public school opened in San Francisco on April 3, 1848, there were 60 school age children living in the city.

Miss Brodehl will reside with her grandparents, Mr and Mrs. D. M. Brodehl of Lodi. Miss Francey George of Eureka enjoyed a week's vacation at Tahoe with Miss Brodehl before her departure.

SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER

PHONE TAHOE CITY 39W

Tahoe City, September 9

Dear Tahoeites:

Had two ovely and welcome letters last week from former Tahoeites which we were happy to get.

One was from the C. O. Valentines, former owners of Lakeside Cabins across from the Catholic chapel, who are now residents of Costa Mesa, the other from long silent Mrs. Marjorie French, who lived with her husband and sons at Tahoe Park for several years.

The Valentines are still enjoying their pleasant home, which is just a mile from the ocean, with mild climate and sea breezes a daily treat. Mrs. V's health was a bit frail a while back and they did a bit of traveling to find relief for her . . . up into the mountains where it was too dry and chilly, then out to the desert, Palm Springs and other resorts, where they found it too hot, then to the bubbling hot springs country of Soboda, Cahuila, Temecula and others, until another hot spell sent them home again. Like many of the citizens of our world today they hug their hearth and curl up in easy chairs to watch TV programs. Hope they write again soon

Mrs. French writes to give me news of their elder son, Robert, who was a popular member of Tahoe's younger set. The family left Tahoe Park several years ago and since have been residing in Long Beach. They have missed Tahoe and are hoping to return to the lake by winter next year. The story of Bob getting the Purple Heart in Korea will be found elsewhere in today's Sun, as well as his folks address, in case any of his local friends wish to write him. His parents will gladly forward any mail to him overseas.

It is with regret that we learn of the planned departure of one of Tahoe's "first families", the John Burns, who have been residents of the Tahoe area for 13 years. Burns has been employed as right hand man to Contractor Norman Mayfield and it is with regret on their part too that they must leave their adorable little cottage with its heavenly garden, to make their home in Auburn some time in mid-October. The one bright aspect of the change will be that the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, well known Tahoeites who have purchased their property, will love it almost as much as they have and will preserve the garden raised through the years with so much love and care. Tahoe will miss the friendly John Burns but we wish them every success in their new enviornment.

Ernie H. Pomin, pioneer resident of Tahoe Pines, who is credited with 57 continuous years residence at the lake, on August 27 accompanied D. N. Freedman on a trip to Los Angeles. Believe it or not, this is the first time in all those years Ernie has has traveled further than Sacramento or San Francisco. Sore hope he had a grand time.

Learned today that Mrs. Herman Rauh is supervising the erection of her family's new home in Arden Manor in Sacramento. What a treat it will be for her captain husband, now stationed in Japan with the army, to return to such a haven of rest after the trials and tribulations of army life.

'Twon't be long now before deer season opens in our district and from advance reports it looks like it should be a good season. Bucks, mostly forked horns, are reported plentiful in most areas hereabouts. Hope that special care will be taken to prevent forest fires. The entire forest area will be a veritable tinder box unless rain falls before the 22nd.

Ring off for the week with a cheery adios to one and all. As ever, Swanee.

TAHOE HATCHERY EXPANSION NOW IN PLANS STAGE

Preliminary plans and estimates are geing prepared by the state division of architecture for expansion of the state fish hatchery just north of Tahoe City, according to a report from the wildlife conservation board.

The project anticipates consolidation of the Tahoe hatchery with the Tallac hatchery and expansion of the plant. When completed, it is estimated the production capacity will be approximately 800,000 catchable size trout and 200,000 fingerlings.

The conservation board, according to a report by consultant Seth Gordon, allocated $240,000 for the project two years ago, with the approval of the fish and game commission. Title to additional land was officially vested in the state on March 6 this year and applications have been filed with the divison of water resources for required water from Lake Tahoe.

"Delays sometimes occur," Gordon delclared, "because of the number of agencies involved and the time required for each to perform its share of the work."

BECHDOLT LIBRARY SETS NEW HOURS, OPEN EVERY DAY

TAHOE CITY— Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, librarian at the new Bechdolt Memorial Library, a branch of the Placer County Free Library, has not yet received word as to when the bronze plaque will arrive at Tahoe which will be the signal for dedication services to be held. Carl Bechdolt Sr. recently erected the new library, which is situated between the fire house and the community center building in Tahoe City, in memory of his late wife Julia. Impressive dedication serviaes will be held as soon as the plaque arrives and a date can be set.

Mrs. Hoffman also announced that the local library will remain open daily from now one, excepting Saturdays and Sunday, during the following hours:

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.; Wednesday evening, 7 to 9 o'clock. It formerly was open only three days each week.

Many new volumes have been added to the shelves during the past few weeks, including books of fiction, non-fiction, mysteries westerns and children's volumes.

Leave Meeks Bay—

The D. B. Robinson family returned to Hemet, Calif., after a two months sojourn at Meeks Bay Robinson says they plan to return a month earlier in the season next year.

Henrikson Baby Beats Stork in Close Race

TAHOE CITY— Mrs. Oliver Henrikson of Lake Forest returned home Tuesday from a Reno hospital where she had been a patient since September 1. It was a nip and tuck ride to the hospital when her husband was forced to halt at Floriston by a rockslide which barred passage, but by a narrow margin the trip was made in time and little 7 pounds 8 ounces daughter Heidi arrived in good shape on schedule.

The Henriksons have a son, Erik, 19 months old. Henrikson is a local trucking contractor.

Woman Marine—

Roberta Jane Miller, 20, of Bijou was one of two women to enlist in the U. S. Marines through the Reno recruiting office during August. She is now training at Parris Island, S. C.

Warm Days, Cool Nights On Weather Menu

TAHOE CITY— Warm days and crisp nights mark the Indian summer season at Tahoe, according to the weather report by Obesrver A. E. Frodenberg. Daily high and low temperatures for the week ending Monday were:

Sept. 3rd: 71, 38; 4th: 74, 38; 5th: 71, 37; 6th: 67, 33; 7th: 77, 36; 8th: 74, 39; 9th: 76, 39; 10th: low 38.

The lake level Monday was 6227.73 with 11 gates open.

WARREN SEEN KEY TO STATE POWER ON NATIONAL SCENE

by HENRY C. MacARTHUR
(Chief, Capitol News Service)

SACRAMENTO —(C. N. S.)— Although it is slightly early to start bouncing the political ball with any degree of accuracy, the national conventions next year shoul determine one thing, at least, and that is whether California, now second state in the nation in population, will come into its own as a national political power, or whether it will continue as the No. 2 boy as far as influence and prestige is concerned.

For in the past, the eastern states and eastern politicians have done most of the dictating as far as presidential candidates go. And while California in its 101 years of statehood has progressed mightily in population, economics and social life, it so far apparently has not reached the age of maturity for its proper place in the national poltical sun.

The future, then, of California in the nation's grab-bag for presidential candidates, appears to be tied up with Governor Earl Warren, vice presidential candidate in 1948. At two GOP conventions, 1944 and 1948, Republicans of California have sent their delegatons to the national affair with a token vote for the governor's nomination for the top spot, a procedure which gave Warren the leadership of the delegation and the authority to ballot as he and the other managers of the delegation saw fit, after casting the initial vote for Warren.

With the passage of the years, California's governor has grown in political stature, and it is no secret among capitol observers that he now is ready for serious competition for the nation's top political spot.

Warren, of course, has made no public announcement as to his intentions in this respect. The unwritten rules of national politics apparently preclude an announcement from anyone to the effect that he is "seeking" the presidency. Yet there aren't any rules that prevent a politician from making himself available, and again, it's no secret that Warren would be "available" if drafted as the GOP candidate.

t appears inevitable then, that the governor will be California's choice as far as the Republican party is concerned and once again will head the party delegation to the national convention, where the people have little to say concerning the final selection.

Some concrete action may come from the GOP state central committee meeting which will be held November 16 and 17 in San Diego. It is reported the meeting is creating unusual interest as this might be the spot where the governor will reveal his plans for 1952.

And it's a foregone conclusion that when something concrete is tossed out, the Republicans of California will pitch in with all the vim and vigor characteristic of a young and fighting state to win the nomination for their favorite and native son. For the patronage rolls in this state have grown along with the state itself.

Meanwhile, the governor goes about his business unperturbed and if the nature of his business grows more and more toward natonal issues, it is, at least, an indication of which way the wind blows for California's place in the national picture.

NORTH TAHOE

by THELMA BURROUGHS

Surprises that drop your under jaw, leaving your mouth hanging open are real! This happened when I answered our door last Tuesday in anticipation of greeting a cousin of ours whom we had not seen in twenty years and instead squeaked out a bewildered "it can't be true" to Bill and Betty Wilcox of Austin Texas, friends of ours that we hadn't seen since leaving there 12 years ago. We had only slightly recovered when Earl and Nettie Burroughs of Houston, Texas, finally did arrive the following day. Earl is engineer in the tax division for Humble Oil. Wilcox is superintendent for a contracting concern in San Antonio. A trip around the lake one day, half a night at the gaming tables in Reno, a ride on Squaw Valley's Sky Chair concluded our entertainment program. Our friends departed as several reservations were also leaving and a sense of sadness moves in for the moment. Also there are a lot of cabins to be cleaned.

Attending a hearing before the board of supervisors last Tuesday on the strength of a petition presented by Mrs. Lily Comstock and Harry omstock for the abolition of the North Tahoe Public Utility Oistrict were Ace Abbott, PUD manager, Tom Sutton, Pappy Brooks and Joe King, directors of the district; Earl Nelson, as a taxpayer in the district; and P .M. Burroughs as an interested spectator. Due to a question as to the legality of the petition, no direct action was taken by the supervisors. That the abolition of the North Tahoe PUD would in no wise benefit the residents of the district was forcefully pointed out by Dr. Saul Ruby, county health officer.

On Thursday night last week the Lake Tahoe Lions Club entertained its ladies at Bert Cochran's Log Cabin on Brockway Hill at Crystal Bay. Prize for the evening, a Shaeffer pen and pencil set, was carried away by Constance Throop. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Levy of Alameda. Local guests were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sheridan of Kings Beach. Unadell Crawford was present but heaven alone knew where Lion Ernie was roaring at the time. He did not answer roll call.

Barbara Larsen, formerly Barbara O'Brien of Kings Beach, has returned to Berkeley where she is enrolled for another year of work at University of California. This year she has been joined by Connie Throop, also of Kings Beach. Both girls are quite determined to complete their college work.

To Ernie Crawford goes the honor of being the first archer in this section to bring home a buck. It was a forked horn brought in from Klondike Meadows by Ernie last Friday. A 70-yard shot dropped the animal without a sound with a direct hit in a vital part of the neck. With the price of steak what it is today, the Crawfords can be considered well off with better than 100 pounds of venison. Jimmie, not to be outdone by his father, hunts faithfully with his bow and arrows.

The trapshoot held at the Lake Tahoe Gun Club grounds last weekend was attended by marksmen from Idaho, Arizona, Utah, Oregon, and all over California. Our local boy, Ray Sorensen, finished in the 96 bracket and 98 was high. More detailed information will be found in another column of your Sierra Sun today.

Blodwyn Tiffee of Tahoe City and Simon Dominguez of Truckee have entered Sacramento Junior College. Oh, yes, and our Ray Sorensen has enrolled for his first term of junior college work at Sacramento. He will be a weekend commuter.

An official board meeting of the Community Methodist Church was held at the Harry Charrison home on Tuesday night at which details for finishing the present building, under construction in connection with the open air chapel, for use as a youth activity center during the winter months were discussed at length. It is the intention of those remaining at Kings Beach the year around to peruse every possibility to provide a suitable place for our youngsters' activities.

First quarterly conference of the Community Methodist Church will be held in Kings Beach on September 27 with Dr. Dillon W. Throckmorton, district superintendent, presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Veryl Draney won in a race with the long nosed bird last Saturday morning (Sept. 8) arriving at Carson City hospital only moments before their newest son, Victor Lyle, arrived, tipping the scales at 8 pounds 9 ounces. Lucille and Victor are doing fine and will be home late this week.

Members of the 1950 Matrons and Patrons of the Eastern Star of the East Bay Association, as follows, were guests of Dan and Louise Anderson, Tahoe Vista, on last weekend: Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Bruce, Antioch; Robert Gillfillan, Hayward; William Rule, Harold Teft, Robin Teft, Tony Simmer, John Monk, Fred Mund, all Oakland; L. N. Johnson, Vallejo; Miss Viola Peterson, Piedmont; Mrs. Mary Ellen Waters, Oakland; Mrs. Ruth Meeker, Oakland. Believe it or not, the Andersons slept all but six of these guests in their own home. What a home! The L. N. Johnsons of Vallejo recently purchased the Dr. Means house at the foot of Brockway hill.

Louise and Dan have with them for the winter their little granddaughters, Sandy and Susan, who will attend Kings Beach School. While their father, Lt. Nelson L. Walsh, is stationed at Ellington Field just out of Houston, Texas, their mother, Patty, with their infant sister, Sydnie, will remain in Houston near him.

Tahoe Women's Club Met Thursday

HOMEWOOD— The Women's Club of Lake Tahoe held a business meeting and luncheon Thursday, September 6, at Homewood Resort. Mrs. Thomsen was hostess for the occasion. After the business session the ladies played canasta.

The Piute Trout, Fighting Cutthroat of the Sierra

As every good trout fisherman knows, the place to look for cutthroat trout is in streams and lakes alnog the west coast, from Mexico to Alaska. They are found all the way from sea level to altitudes of 10,000 feet, but never east of the Rocky Mountains.

There are many varieties of cutthroats, says the National Wildlife Federation. One of the most colorful is the Piute Trout, which lives in the small streams of Fish Valley, California. This is a remote region in the mountains, east of the Sierra Divide.

Piute Trout

©National Wildlife Federation

Like all cutthroats, the Piute has a red streak or gash on both sides of its lower jaw. Inside its large mouth, there are teeth in both the roof and the jaw. Its slender body is dark on top and ivory white underneath. The most striking marks are rov of blotches —some light brown and some red-dish—on its sides.

The size of the Piute depends on its home. If it is living in a large lake, where there is plenty of food, it grows to be a good sized fish, weighing from four to six pounds. But in a small lake or stream, where it has less to eat and not much room in which to roam, it may never tip the scales at more than a pound.

Whether large or small, the Piute Trout likes to stay near rocks and logs and under overhanging banks. It also looks for deep pools in which to idle.

Because it is a fish of the high country, the Piute does not lay eggs as early in the season as some cutthroats do. It usually waits until summer to spawn. Then, when the water is getting warmer, the female lays from 3,000 to 6,000 eggs in the gravel bottom of a stream or lake.

The Piute family eats flies and other insects, crawfish, worms, minnows and fish eggs. A fisherman can attract them with a spoon or artificial fly, a minnow or a grasshopper.

When hooked, the Piute puts up a good fight. Like all cutthroats that live in cold water, it is a vigorous, high-spirited fish. There are cutthroats, though, which are much less energetic than the Piute. According to the National Wildlife Federation, cutthroat trout found in warmer water are more sluggish and less likely to resist when caught.

Interesting information about other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

LETTER to The Editor

Dear Sir:

There may be some indication of what is wrong with our country when a passing tourist has to ask six persons in Truckee before learning from a druggist the name of the congressman from this district.

Signs west of Reno urge motorists to wrtie the congressmen in regard to making the road a four-lane highway. It is truly dangerous and a poor introduction to the state of California.

I have written Congressman Engle with pleasure and hope tha citizens of Truckee, after learning the name of their congressman, will do the same.

You are at liberty to print this note if you feel it will be of benefit.

Very sincerely,

VISITING DRUGGIST TRAPS PORCUPINE ON BERNARD LAWN

Warren Davison, Livermore drug store operator, believes that if the forest service want to exterminate porcupines, they are at liberty to do so but he wants no part of the job.

Just to prove his point, he supplied the service with one of the animals Saturday night right from the yard of Mrs. J. H. Bernard, where he and his family were visiting.

Returning to the Bernard home in the evening, Davison spotted the porcupine. He secured a large parrot cage and, with the aid of a neighbor, slipped it over the unsuspecting porky. After displaying his catch at Sarge's, where the chef became so interested that he allowed a steak order to burn to a crisp, Davison made efforts to locate someone interested enough in the beast to take it off his hands.

Advised that the forest service had made requests that the porcupines be eliminated because of the damage they allegedly do to small trees, Davison looked up one of the government trucks parked on the main street and carefully deposited his catch on the seat.

The unsuspecting driver, a few minutes later, to find he had a passenger, whose ultimate fate was not immediately learned.

State Forestry Division Seeks Permanent Help

Examinations to fill four classes of jobs in the State Division of Forestry were announced today by the State Personnel Board.

They are forestry equipment operator, paying $281 to $341 a month; forest fire fighter foreman, $268 to $325; forest fire truck driver, $243 to $295; and camp crew cook, $220 to $268. Final date for all applications is September 27.

The examinations are for permanent positions. These are separate from the numerous seasonal jobs during the summer fire season, although persons working on these temporary assignments may take the examination to get permanent status.

Only the forest fire truck driver examination will be held on a state wide basis. The others will not be given for Districts IV and VI, which take in most of southern California but will take in all the rest of the state.

Information and application forms are available from the State Personnel Board at Sacramento.
